WHAT'S INSIDE

- 5 historical and heritage places per district
- 5 tourist attractions per district
- Exact place name and locality-level address
- Five-sentence description for each place
- Clickable Google Maps destination links

ACCURACY NOTE

For smaller village sites, an exact street address or verified entrance may not be published. Map links therefore open a Google Maps search for the named place and locality. Confirm opening hours, access permission and the precise entrance locally before travelling. One nearby regional excursion is clearly labelled as outside the named district.

PLACE NAME	DESCRIPTION	EXACT LOCATION	GOOGLE MAPS
Idrakpur Fort	A Mughal-era river-fortification associated with the defence of the Dhaka region. It is traditionally linked with Mir Jumla's seventeenth-century military works. Its compact brick structure and bastion-like form make it a notable example of military architecture. The fort stands within the urban area and is one of the district's best-known heritage sites. Check local opening arrangements before visiting.	Courtgaon area, Munshiganj Sadar, Munshiganj, Munshiganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Baba Adam Mosque	This historic mosque is associated with the memory of Baba Adam, a Muslim preacher linked to the region's medieval history. The building is noted for its traditional brick construction and domed form. It is an important example of the Islamic architectural heritage of Bikrampur. The surrounding settlement gives visitors a sense of the area's long religious history. Please be respectful of worshippers and local customs.	Kazi Kasba, Rampal Union, Munshiganj Sadar, Munshiganj, Munshiganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Sonarang Twin Temples	The twin temples are among the best-known Hindu heritage structures in Munshiganj. Their tall forms and terracotta-era brickwork make them distinctive in the surrounding rural landscape. They are generally associated with the region's historic Hindu patronage and temple-building traditions. The site is especially interesting to visitors who enjoy architecture and local history. The temples are in a village setting, so access may involve narrow local roads.	Sonarang village, Tongibari Upazila, Munshiganj, Munshiganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Bikrampur Buddhist Bihar and Museum of Antiquities	Archaeological excavations at Raghurampur revealed remains associated with an early Buddhist settlement in historic Bikrampur. The nearby museum interprets finds and the area's archaeological significance. It offers a useful introduction to the region's role in the Buddhist and early medieval past of Bengal. The site is best visited as a combined archaeology-and-history stop. Confirm museum opening times before travelling. PLACE NAME	DESCRIPTION	EXACT LOCATION	GOOGLE MAPS
Mawa Ferry Ghat and Padma Riverfront	Mawa is a well-known riverfront destination on the Padma, popular for wide river views and the lively ferry-terminal atmosphere. Visitors come to watch boats, enjoy the breeze and sample local fish dishes. The river landscape changes with season, current and shifting sandbanks. It is a public transport and working river area, not a managed beach. Keep away from unsafe edges and follow ferry-terminal rules.	Mawa, Louhajang Upazila, Munshiganj, Munshiganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Padma Bridge Viewpoint, Mawa side	The Mawa side offers views of the Padma Bridge corridor and the broad river landscape. It is a convenient stop for photography and observing one of Bangladesh's major infrastructure projects. The best viewpoints depend on access restrictions and current traffic arrangements. Do not stop on the bridge carriageway or restricted road shoulders. Use designated public areas and follow signs.	Mawa approach area, Louhajang Upazila, Munshiganj, Munshiganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Meghna Riverbank, Gazaria	The Meghna riverbank in Gazaria provides expansive views of a major river and its changing channels. The area is valued for boat traffic, river scenery and a glimpse of river-based livelihoods. Visitors may find local food stalls and informal stopping points near landing areas. Facilities vary by location and season. Ask locally about safe access because currents and banks can be hazardous.	Gazaria riverfront, Gazaria Upazila, Munshiganj, Munshiganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Rampal Dighi	Rampal Dighi is a large historic pond associated with the old Bikrampur landscape. The waterbody and its banks offer a quiet break from the busy town area. It also reflects the traditional importance of large ponds for settlement, water and community life. The surrounding area can be explored alongside nearby heritage sites. It is a local public-space visit rather than a developed resort.	Rampal, Munshiganj Sadar, Munshiganj, Munshiganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■

Bhawal Rajbari	Bhawal Rajbari is associated with the historic Bhawal Estate and its influential zamindar family. The palace complex reflects the region's colonial-period administrative and landed heritage. Its location in Joydebpur makes it one of Gazipur's most recognisable historical landmarks. The surviving buildings and grounds have changed over time, so not every area may be accessible. Treat occupied or official areas respectfully.	Joydebpur, Gazipur Sadar, Gazipur, Gazipur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Baliadi Zamindar Bari	Baliadi Zamindar Bari is a historic landed-estate residence associated with the zamindari period. Its architecture and remaining compound features recall the social and economic influence of local landlords. The site is of interest to visitors tracing rural Bengal's estate history. Conditions and access can vary because parts may be privately used. Confirm local access before making a special trip.	Baliadi, Kaliakair Upazila, Gazipur, Gazipur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
St. Nicholas Church	St. Nicholas Church is a historic Christian place of worship in Nagari, a settlement with a long Catholic community history. The church and surrounding village offer insight into the region's religious and cultural diversity. Its significance is as much communal as architectural. Visitors should dress modestly and avoid disrupting services. Check with local caretakers before photography inside.	Nagari, Kaliganj Upazila, Gazipur, Gazipur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Bhawal Estate heritage sites	The historic Bhawal estate shaped much of the social history of the area around Joydebpur. Surviving estate-era buildings and associated landmarks provide context for the famous Bhawal family and its legacy. This is best understood as a dispersed heritage area rather than one single monument. Some locations are now in active institutional or private use. Use local guidance to identify accessible structures.	Joydebpur and surrounding Bhawal estate area, Gazipur, Gazipur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Nagari historic Catholic settlement	Nagari is one of the older Christian settlements in the Dhaka region. Its churches, community institutions and long-standing local traditions form a distinctive cultural landscape. The settlement helps tell a broader story of religious communities in Bengal. Visitors can combine a respectful walk with nearby rural scenery. Access to schools, church interiors and community property requires permission. PLACE NAME	DESCRIPTION	EXACT LOCATION	GOOGLE MAPS
Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujib Safari Park	This large safari park is a major family attraction with animal exhibits and landscaped visitor areas. It was designed to offer wildlife viewing in a managed setting rather than a traditional zoo-only experience. Visitors should follow park rules, stay within designated areas and never feed animals. Opening arrangements and ticketing can change, so check before travel. Allow several hours for a visit.	Mauna, Sreepur Upazila, Gazipur, Gazipur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Bhawal National Park	Bhawal National Park protects a large tract of sal forest north of Dhaka. It is popular for day trips, nature walks, picnics and observing the forest landscape. The park is especially attractive during cooler months, although weekends can be crowded. Keep the forest clean and avoid loud activity or damaging plants. Check current entry rules and facilities with the forest authority.	Near Rajendrapur, Gazipur Sadar and Sreepur area, Gazipur, Gazipur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Nuhash Polli	Nuhash Polli is a retreat created by celebrated Bangladeshi writer and filmmaker Humayun Ahmed. Its gardens, ponds, sculptures and wooded setting give it a distinctive artistic atmosphere. Fans visit to remember the writer and enjoy the landscaped grounds. Public access may be limited or subject to specific opening arrangements. Verify visiting permission before travelling.	Pirojoli, near Hotapara, Gazipur Sadar, Gazipur, Gazipur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Bangladesh Agricultural Research Institute gardens and grounds	The agricultural research campus is associated with Gazipur's green institutional landscape and agricultural research heritage. Visitors should not assume the working campus is freely open as a tourist site. With permission, the area may be of interest to those curious about crop research and local horticulture. Access restrictions apply because it is an operational institution. Contact the institution in advance if planning an educational visit.	Joydebpur, Gazipur Sadar, Gazipur, Gazipur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Rajendrapur forest picnic area	The Rajendrapur area is known for forest scenery and day-trip picnic destinations near the Dhaka–Mymensingh corridor. Sal trees and green spaces provide a break from the city. Some picnic facilities are privately operated and may require booking. Visitor experience depends on season, crowds and site management. Confirm the exact venue and current entry arrangements before setting out.	Rajendrapur, Gazipur, Gazipur, Bangladesh	Open map ■

Wari-Bateshwar Archaeological Site	Wari-Bateshwar is one of Bangladesh's most important early archaeological landscapes. Excavations have uncovered ancient settlement remains and artefacts suggesting long-distance trade connections. The site is central to discussions of early urbanisation in Bengal. Visitors should distinguish excavated areas from ordinary village land and follow local guidance. Interpretation facilities may be modest, so a guide can improve the visit.	Wari and Bateshwar villages, Belabo Upazila, Narsingdi, Narsingdi, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Parulia Mosque	Parulia Mosque is a historic religious structure recognised among the district's heritage places. Its traditional masonry and mosque form reflect older local building practices. The mosque remains connected to the surrounding community, so it should be treated first as a place of worship. Architectural details are best appreciated with respectful, unobtrusive observation. Ask before taking photographs inside.	Parulia, Shibpur Upazila, Narsingdi, Narsingdi, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Lakshman Saha Zamindar Bari	This historic zamindari residence is associated with the district's landed and merchant history. Surviving buildings and local accounts provide a glimpse into the social life of the town in an earlier period. The property may have been altered or repurposed over time. Access can depend on current ownership and use. Confirm the precise entrance locally before visiting.	Narsingdi town area, Narsingdi Sadar, Narsingdi, Narsingdi, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Baliakandi / historic zamindari residences of Shibpur	Shibpur and nearby villages contain historic residences associated with local landholding families. These are generally dispersed buildings rather than one formal heritage complex. Their value lies in documenting local architecture and the rural social order of the past. Some structures are privately occupied or in poor condition. Seek local directions and permission before entering compounds.	Shibpur Upazila, Narsingdi, Narsingdi, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Historic settlements of Egarasindhur trade corridor	The wider archaeological landscape around Wari-Bateshwar includes settlement areas that help explain historic trade and habitation. The district's position near waterways supported movement of goods and people. This entry refers to the broader heritage landscape, not a single ticketed monument. Archaeological remains may be fragile or not visibly marked. Visit with a knowledgeable local guide where possible.	Belabo–Wari-Bateshwar area, Narsingdi, Narsingdi, Bangladesh	Open map ■

Dream Holiday Park	Dream Holiday Park is a commercial amusement and family recreation destination. It offers rides and leisure facilities suited to a day trip. The experience is recreational rather than historical, making it a clear contrast with the district's archaeological sites. Rides and amenities may vary by operating schedule. Check ticket prices, opening days and ride availability before travelling.	Chaitaba, Madhabdi area, Narsingdi, Narsingdi, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Meghna Riverfront, Raipura	The Meghna riverfront offers views of boats, river traffic and broad stretches of water. The landscape is closely tied to fishing, transport and riverside settlements. It can be a scenic stop for photography and observing everyday river life. There may be no formal visitor facilities at smaller landing points. Check local advice on safe banks and boat access.	Raipura riverbank area, Narsingdi, Narsingdi, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Hatirdia and rural countryside	The rural countryside around Hatirdia offers a look at agricultural villages, ponds and seasonal greenery. It is suited to slow travel and photography rather than a single organised attraction. Visitors can learn about local markets and village life by exploring respectfully. Transport and amenities are basic away from town centres. Ask before photographing people or private property.	Hatirdia area, Monohardi Upazila, Narsingdi, Narsingdi, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Narsingdi Railway Station and town centre	The town centre gives visitors a practical introduction to the district's busy commercial life. The railway station area reflects the role of rail transport in connecting Narsingdi with Dhaka and other regional centres. Nearby markets are useful for local snacks and everyday shopping. This is an urban stop, not a managed sightseeing attraction. Take care around roads, platforms and traffic.	Narsingdi town, Narsingdi Sadar, Narsingdi, Narsingdi, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Meghna-Ghorashal riverside landscape	The riverside landscape near Ghorashal is shaped by the Meghna system and nearby industrial development. Visitors may find open river views and activity around local crossings and settlements. It offers a different perspective from the district's ancient archaeological sites. Access varies because some riverfront areas adjoin industrial or private property. Use public access points and obey safety signs. PLACE NAME	DESCRIPTION	EXACT LOCATION	GOOGLE MAPS
Baliati Palace	Baliati Palace is one of the most important zamindar-era architectural complexes in Bangladesh. Its multiple buildings, courtyards and ornamental details reflect the wealth of the Baliati estate. The complex developed over generations and is a major heritage destination for architecture enthusiasts. Some areas may be under conservation or subject to visitor rules. Check opening arrangements and respect protected structures.	Baliati, Saturia Upazila, Manikganj, Manikganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Teota Zamindar Bari	Teota Zamindar Bari is a historic estate complex associated with the Teota zamindar family. The surviving structures show the scale and style of rural elite residences in Bengal. The village is also linked in popular accounts with poet Jibanananda Das's family history. Parts of the complex may be occupied or deteriorated. Ask locally about safe, permitted areas to visit.	Teota village, Shibalaya Upazila, Manikganj, Manikganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Machain Mosque	Machain Mosque is a historic mosque known within Manikganj's local architectural heritage. Its traditional form and setting make it useful for understanding the spread of Islamic religious architecture in rural Bengal. It remains part of a living community, so visitors should be discreet. Architectural features may be easier to appreciate with local explanation. Confirm directions because village roads can be narrow.	Machain village, Harirampur Upazila, Manikganj, Manikganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Dhankora Zamindar Bari	Dhankora Zamindar Bari is associated with the region's landed-estate history. Remaining buildings and local memories illustrate the social prominence of zamindar families before the end of the zamindari system. The site is less formalised than major heritage monuments. Some parts may be private residences. Obtain permission before entering buildings or courtyards.	Dhankora, Saturia Upazila, Manikganj, Manikganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Historic Teota village heritage area	Teota's historic village landscape includes estate-era buildings and local heritage connected with prominent families. The setting helps place the zamindar residence within the surrounding community rather than viewing it in isolation. Visitors may find old structures mixed with modern homes. The area is not a single managed museum. Explore on foot only where public access is clear.	Teota, Shibalaya Upazila, Manikganj, Manikganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■

Aricha Ghat	Aricha Ghat is a major river transport area where visitors can watch ferries, launches and working river traffic. The meeting of roads, boats and river scenery gives the place a lively atmosphere. It is especially interesting for photography and observing transport life. This is an operational terminal, not a recreational beach. Stay within public areas and follow ferry staff instructions.	Aricha, Shibalaya Upazila, Manikganj, Manikganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Padma Riverbank, Harirampur	The Padma riverbank offers wide views of water, sandbars and a changing river landscape. Seasonal erosion and sediment movement constantly reshape the chars. Visitors may enjoy boat views and rural scenery, but access can change quickly. Boat trips should be arranged with trusted local operators. Avoid unstable banks and heed weather and current conditions.	Harirampur riverbank and char areas, Manikganj, Manikganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Kaliganga Riverfront	The Kaliganga riverfront is a convenient place to see the waterways that shape the district. Riverside views vary with water level and season. Nearby town facilities make it easier to combine the visit with local food or markets. It is an informal public landscape rather than a developed attraction. Choose safe access points and avoid slippery embankments.	Manikganj town and nearby riverbank, Manikganj Sadar, Manikganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Baliati Palace grounds and gardens	Beyond its historical significance, Baliati’s courtyards and open grounds offer a scenic setting for photography and a relaxed visit. The scale of the complex makes it easy to spend time exploring exterior details. Its landscaped and architectural setting is a strong contrast to riverfront attractions. Follow conservation instructions and do not climb on old masonry. Visitor access can vary by maintenance work.	Baliati, Saturia Upazila, Manikganj, Manikganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Saturia rural landscape	Saturia’s villages offer ponds, fields, orchards and a slower rural atmosphere. The area is a useful complement to a visit to Baliati Palace. Seasonal crops and monsoon water create different scenery through the year. It is not a single designated tourist facility, so plan around local roads and transport. Respect private land and local residents.	Saturia Upazila, Manikganj, Manikganj, Bangladesh	Open map ■

Malancha Mosque / historic mosque area	Local heritage lists refer to old mosques and religious structures in Jamalpur's rural settlements. Malancha's historic mosque area is of interest for traditional architecture and local religious history. The site may be modest and not developed for tourism. Because similar place names exist, confirm the exact mosque with local authorities. Observe mosque etiquette and ask before photography. Doyamoyee Temple	Doyamoyee Temple is a known Hindu religious landmark in Jamalpur town. It represents the district's continuing religious and cultural diversity. The temple is most active during festivals and regular worship times. Visitors should follow local customs and avoid disrupting ceremonies. Confirm opening and access arrangements with the caretakers.	Jamalpur town, Jamalpur Sadar, Jamalpur, Jamalpur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Historic Jamalpur town centre	The older town centre includes civic, religious and commercial landmarks that reflect Jamalpur's growth as a regional administrative hub. It is best explored as a short walking route rather than one monument. Some older buildings may be altered or used for modern purposes. Local guidance can help identify surviving heritage features. Use public streets and respect active premises.	Jamalpur Sadar town, Jamalpur, Jamalpur, Bangladesh	Open map ■

Jamalpur town park and public spaces	The town's public spaces offer a simple place to relax and experience local daily life. They can be combined with the Shah Jamal shrine, Doyamoyee Temple and local markets. Facilities vary and may be busiest in the evening. This is an urban leisure stop rather than a major destination park. Keep public areas clean and follow local rules.	Jamalpur Sadar town, Jamalpur, Jamalpur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Sarishabari river and countryside	Sarishabari offers rural scenery shaped by waterways, agricultural land and village settlements. It is suitable for visitors interested in everyday countryside rather than a packaged attraction. Seasonal changes bring different views of fields and water. Visitor facilities can be limited outside the main town. Check local transport and weather before setting out.	Sarishabari Upazila, Jamalpur, Jamalpur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Dewanganj riverine landscape	Dewanganj's northern riverine landscape includes channels, chars and agricultural settlements. It offers a glimpse of life shaped by river movement and seasonal flooding. Scenic access points are often informal rather than developed viewpoints. Local boat operators and residents can advise on safe places to visit. Do not travel onto isolated chars without local guidance.	Dewanganj Upazila, Jamalpur, Jamalpur, Bangladesh	Open map ■
Jamalpur local handloom and craft markets	Jamalpur has a tradition of local crafts and handloom-related commerce. Market visits offer a cultural experience and an opportunity to see regional products. Shops and market days vary by location. This is a practical visitor activity rather than a single named monument. Compare quality and prices, and ask permission before photographing artisans.
